Staying Loose with Watercolors

Learn how to work quickly and expressively in watercolor with these few simple exercises. Sarah will demonstrate each technique first and have the class follow up with the same exercises each time. We will be working from top to bottom on an angle with large brushes. Still life set up and reference material will be provided.

About Sarah Yeoman

Sarah's formal study at Kutztown University and Pennland Craft School included metal smithing, sculpture, music and painting. She studied in workshops with Frank Webb and Dawn Andrews.

Sarah has painted in watercolor for 25 years and also teaches at her Crow Hollow Studio.

She paints with a wonderful blend of natural instinct, solid composition and juicy layers of color.
